"If you want a speaker who's knowledgeable, personable, well-organized, and passionate about Indiana, I highly recommend Glory-June Greiff. She has presented numerous programs at our library--everything from a survey of Art Deco architecture in Indianapolis to the history of the state parks system to the role of the Works Progress Administration--and our patrons always love her presentations. She draws from her extensive slide collection to illustrate her talks and is also willing to tailor her programs to the needs of individual organizations. She's one of our state treasures!" Laura Day, Adult Programs Coordinator, Plainfield-Guilford Township Public Library
